Guidelines for Enclosures

All poultry shall be kept outside of the dwelling in an enclosure which shall include a coop and a pen/run which will allow for an indoor space (coop) to roost at night and an outdoor area (pen/run) for daytime use and exposure to fresh air and sunshine. The poultry enclosure shall be maintained in a clean, dry, odor-free manor at all times. All manure, uneaten feed, and other trash shall be regularly removed and properly disposed so the poultry enclosure does not constitute a nuisance, safety hazard or health problem.

- a) The poultry enclosure shall be secure to prevent the entry of rodents and predators, and shall effectively contain and protect poultry.
- b) The poultry coop shall be constructed of solid material on all sides, including roof and door(s). Vents, covered with wire, shall be placed as necessary for adequate ventilation.
- c) The coop must have roosting bars for poultry to perch and sleep on.
- d) The coop and pen/run shall provide adequate area per animal and access to fresh water at all times.

- e) The pen/run shall be connected to the coop, consist of traditional building or fencing material and shall be covered by wire, netting or solid building material. The pen/run shall provide exposure to both sun and shade.
- f) Poultry may be allowed to "freely roam" outside their enclosure if they do not leave the property. This can likely be successful if the property has fences of adequate height.
- g) The coop and pen/run shall be constructed and maintained in a workmanlike manor comparable to that of accessory structures
